The image consists of two screenshots of the Binance mobile application interface, labeled 1 and 2.

Screenshot 1: This screenshot shows the main dashboard of the Binance app. At the top, there are tabs for Spot, Margin, Futures, P2P, Earn, and Pool. The P2P tab is highlighted with a yellow background and has a blue number '2' above it, indicating it's the active tab. Below the tabs, the current equity value is displayed as 0.00000000 BTC (~$0.000000). A large blue circle with the number '1' is positioned at the bottom left. In the center, there's a list of available wallets: USDT (TetherUS), BTC (Bitcoin), BUSD (BUSD), BNB (BNB), ETH (Ethereum), DAI (Dai), and BIDR. Each item in the list has a circular icon to its left and a balance of '0' to its right. At the bottom of the screen, there are navigation icons for Home, Markets, Trade, Futures, and Wallets, with the Wallets icon having a blue number '1' above it. A yellow button labeled 'P2P Trading' is located at the bottom right.

Screenshot 2: This screenshot shows the 'Assets' screen for the USDT (TetherUS) wallet. It displays the following information:

Quantity	0.00
Available Balance	0.00
In Order	0.00
Estimated Value(BTC)	0.00
Estimated Value($)	$0.000000

At the bottom of this screen, there is a 'Send' button with a blue number '2' above it, and a note: "Send your assets to other Binance account holders. Note: Once the transaction is sent, it cannot be returned." A large blue circle with the number '1' is positioned at the bottom left. A yellow button labeled 'Transfer' is located at the bottom right.
